Frank Galey &
His Three Sisters

Francis Galey died during the Philadelphia Flu Epidemic months before his son, Frank was born in 1917

White Grass Dude Ranch

After one year at Princeton . . .

Frank returned to White Grass, took over leadership from his mother, Marion Hammond, and ran the ranch until his death in 1985

Frank was a Colorful, Spirited, Humorous Westerner
Who Graciously Welcomed Dudes from the East.
One dude said, 'Everybody Loved Frank.'
